

AV Receivers

Receivers are the basis of your home theatre system and not only provide sound but also handle all video processing, they are the heart of your system. This makes this purchase very important and here at Mac Smart Home Centre we are equipped with the latest knowledge and specifications to make your purchase with total confidence.

The new range of High Definition T.V's means that an amplifiers video processing ability is more important than ever. Here at Mac Hi Fi we are proud to stock a full range of HDMI UpConverting amplifiers to make the provide the absolute best picture quality from your High Definition T.V.

There are many different types of receivers equipped with processing different sound formats for example Dolby digital, THX, DTS, Dolby EX and Pro Logic just to name a few. We offer amplifiers to suit a range of audio needs, from audiophile grade two-channel equipment to integrated surround sound receivers for the budget wary, Mac Smart Home Centre stocks it all.

Receivers vary in price and quality depending on the application it is suited for this is where we can help and with our experienced technicians we can make installations a breeze with the correct setting and programming done for you.