

A/V Accessories

A/V accessories consists of all the items that connect and finish off your home theatre system items such as digital interconnects, interconnect leads, speaker cable, splitters, antenna cable, programmable remote controls, speaker brackets, plasma and LCD mounts, projector mounts and the list goes on.

It is essential to use the correct product for the correct situation as running cheap speaker cable on good speakers could reduce the sound quality by 20%. It is all about matching your system to the appropriate accessories with component and digital interconnects it is essential to use the correct cable that's where expert help is essential and we are happy to help.